

Offering Families Support for Virtual Learning

iPad Accessibility Features and more. . .

Join us . . . . . for one of two different virtual sessions for families who are trying to support their students/family members with technology and apps that are commonly used in school and at home!

Thursday, November 12, 2020

6:30 pm to 8:00 pm

Register by Tues. Nov. 10

What to expect:

Participants will learn about the iPad's accessibility features, different apps for teaching basic math skills, telling time, money math, cause and effect, etc. The course is designed to provide support for any families whose students/family members use an iPad, have ASD, and/or have an individual learning program in an inclusive classroom, GAINS, MAPS, or Life Skills class. The apps used have been carefully chosen because they are easily accessible.

Registration and Preparation

Register online at: windsorsexfamnet.ca/upcoming-events/

Those who register will be sent a Zoom link later to attend the virtual learning session.

Space is limited. Registrations will close once events are full.

How to prepare: If possible have two devices on hand: one that you will link you to the event to listen and watch the presenter, as well as a device (like an iPad) so that you can practice how to use the apps shown. For example: a laptop and an iPad for the November 12th event.
